

REMOTE MONITORING EXPERIENCE DURING THE PANDEMIC!

Monthly Webinar Series-October Edition

For the South Chapter by the South Chapter!!!

Getting On-Board with Remote Monitoring-The New Norm!

The novel Coronavirus might be the actual tipping point for remote clinical trial monitoring, though technology has been leading us in this direction for a while.

Despite the long-held standard of the clinical research industry to conduct on-site monitoring visits, national regulations and international authorities have been encouraging us to incorporate remote monitoring as part of the clinical trial monitoring strategy over the past decade. With the considerable increase in number and complexity of clinical trials, comes the enhanced pressure of effectively monitoring these trials, with remote monitoring being one of the proposed solutions for successfully examining data.

To know more about the various approaches that have been adopted by Sponsors/CROs/Sites and various other Clinical Shared Services, please join our webinar to hear from our Expert Speakers and Panelists!
